Dear Parents and Carers,

This week we have focused on our school value of Care, with Reverend Louise delivering a collective worship on Thursday celebrating International Peace Day. The children loved that she based the session on Jelly Babies (which used to be called Peace Babies after WW1). The key message being that we should celebrate and encourage diversity, individual thoughts, and ideas. It is important we are not all the same but that we live well with one another with respect. Next week, we focus on Harvest.

Moving on, there is a lot in the news this week about school attendance. The reason excellence attendance is important to us is because learning is planned in blocks that are progressive and sequential. Imagine almost stepping- stones or a ladder of learning. If a child misses some stepping-stones they have to make one really big jump for the next lesson! Of course, we will do recaps and help, but it is not the same as that core lesson.

Last year our overall attendance was above National figures so I know the community values good attendance and I am hopeful this will continue. Please speak to us to if your child is struggling and we will work with you.

Thank you, Mrs R. Major.
